Advancing Churches in Missions Commitment

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Pastor John Crosby has been the Senior Pastor at Christ Presbyterian Church in Edina, Minnesota since 1989. He previously served at the National Presbyterian Church in Washington DC. Under his leadership, Christ Presbyterian has continued to be deeply involved in ministries of justice and compassion locally and throughout the world. He has served on multiple boards including Opportunity International and the Lawndale Community Church. John is currently serving on both the domestic and international World Vision Boards. He is a graduate of Wheaton College and Gordon Conwell Seminary and holds a doctorate from Fuller Theological Seminary. John and his wife Laura are avid golfers, and the proud parents of two daughters with whom he enjoys traveling around the world.

FRIDAY EVENING INTENSIVES 6:45-9:00 P.M. (Choose one)

Inviting the 'Generation in Waiting' into Mission

Come and discuss how to mobilize the 'generation in waiting' in your local church through a 21st century missions model. We will discuss who they are, the hurdles that are encountered in working with them, and how to create space for them and invite them in.

Dr. Jim Raymo serves with WEC in the current role of Visiting Assistant Professor at Northwestern College. Jim has been with WEC International since 1987 serving in various roles including 7 years as the US Director for WEC. God developed his heart for missions during his years with the Army in Vietnam.

Jim and his wife Judy have seven natural and adopted multi-racial children.

Missions Priorities in Tomorrow's World: What is Most Important for Your Church?

You are on a journey. You need input from Scripture (What's the goal?), an understanding of the world (What is most needed?), and your church (What are your best roles?).

David Mays is Director of Learning Initiatives for The Mission Exchange (formerly EFMA) and has developed numerous workshops, seminars, and written resources. David has a keen understanding of how to help churches develop strategic missions programs. He consults with church leaders in the areas of leadership, management, and communication. David and his wife Marcy have three adult children and live in a suburb of Indianapolis, Indiana.

Wholism (or is it Holism?) in Missions

What is the role of passionate ministries in the global mission effort? We hear of (W) holism and we're not sure which way to spell it let alone understand it! Since the Church began it has been involved with loving God and loving our neighbors, but to what end? This will really be a "work" shop and it will help bring clarity to the Gospel and how you approach missions.

Paul Arneson is a consultant, trainer and Christian leadership coach who specializes in international ministry and leader development. Serving as an influence among a network of cross cultural workers and local leaders in over twenty countries, he helps build and support effective, wholistic ministry by developing key skills in those who lead. Paul is a former pastor, and is currently the director of Emmaus Associates, a ministry of Global Horizons, Inc. based in St. Paul, MN. He and his wife Kathy have two children.
